Charlie Walker enters race for state representative

Coffee County native Charles Walker announced today his candidacy for House of Representatives, District 91. Mr. Walker will run as a Democratic candidate in the June primary. This district is currently being served by Representative Jimmy

In announcing his candidacy Mr. Walker states, "My biggest concern is that over the years we have sent representatives to Montgomery to carry on the work of State Government and in my opinion, they have shirked their responsibilities and left the hard decisions up to the courts. I am concerned over the increase in crime, and will work to achieve the better utilization of tax money without a tax increase." Mr. Walker is currently serving on the Coffee County Board of Education, a position he has held for four years, and has been employed with Windham Lumber Co., Inc. for versity, Valdosta, Georgia.

Creative Writing Assignment In History

Grady Williams, and nineteen other niors and three seniors, were given a reative writing-critical thinking assignent for their American History class After studying the reasons for Amerin interference in the Mexican Revolu on that occurred just before World War the members of this class were asked imagine that the time was 1910 and at they were Mexican refugees who crossed the Mexican border into New Mexico. Their assignment was to write an essay explaining why they had decided to leave Mexico and what hopes Grady earned a 10 point bonus for his ssay because his instructor thought he had given the assignment extra thought and extra time in preparation -- in addition to being "just plain good!" The essay is "Juan left Mexico in 1910 because his home and family had been destroyed. With everything lost, Juan entered the U.S. with hopes of a new life; but wherever he applied for a job he was discriminated against because he was a Mexican. He finally found a job working in the fields for an elderly farmer. Over time, Juan taught himself t zenship in the U.S. He was granted citi-

Last weekend's beautiful weather made everyone want to get out and have some fun, and the same was true at the Mularz house, as we pulled out the bats and balls and went out in the front yard with the girls to get in a little practice. Melissa and I loosened up our arms for a while before shagging flies and grounders, and then even got in a little batting practice, while Kathy and Melanie played catch and then put the ball on a tee for Melanie to hit. Both girls will play this season, and while having fun will be the most important aspect of the game, Mom and Dad will try to make sure the girls learn a little, improve as they go and still have fun.

TIGER BASEBALLERS GETTING READY FOR OPENER

The Elba Tiger baseball team has been working hard whenever possible and appears almost ready to get the season underway. Many of the Elba players missed early drills because of basketball, and recently the practices have been at odd times to work around football; however, with the talent the Tigers have coming back, the players should have more than enough personal pride to get ready and go after another area title. The Tigers could struggle for a while, but before long the wins should begin to pile up. ONCE OVER LIGHTLY....

*In the cournament, added to the top three contributed in the tournament, added to the top three contributed in t tems with scheduling and practice would be to move the baseball season ou to April and let the playoffs wind down in mid-May. Baseball is supposed to be a warm weather sport, anyway, and by moving the season it would allow spring football drills to develop a definite schedule statewide and solve a lot of problems. Just an idea.

Robert E. Lee standout Fred Beasley was back in the news for all the wrong reasons last week as the Auburn signee underwent eight hours of surgery to rebuild a damaged knee. Beasley reportedly hurt the knee lifting weights and then blew the knee out playing basketball, and the surgery was a complete reconstructive job, which means a lot of rehabilitation. Beasley can overcome the injury, but could wind up as a linebacker if his speed isn't the same after the comeback. His injury reminds me of the fate of former Jeff Davis standout Arthur Mitchell, a 6'5" tight-end, who looked like a pro during his high school career before being injured. Hopefully, Beasley can overcome the injury and at least use his skills to get a college education. The NCAA Tournament tips off this week and after last weekend's upsets it is anybody's guess who will be the team to beat in the run for the title. North Carolina is strong day in and day out and should make a serious run for the top, while Michigan is still loaded and Kentucky showed Saturday that when it is hot, it can whip anybody. I've never been too good at predicting basketball; however, I look for the Final 4 to include at least a few of these teams - North Carolina, Oklahoma State, Louisville, Michigan, Cincinnati, Kentucky, Arkansas or UCLA. There will be the obvious first round blowouts, and upsets, but all in all it could be the most exciting tour-on private schools last week, but did hint that some new wording could come from the association concerning areas from which the private schools may attract students. Wouldn't it be easier for everyone if the AHSAA simply added rules that in the private school ranks no player may participate if he/she is on any type of scholarship, and that no player will be eligible unless he/she meets the residency rule already in effect. These rules would

I can't believe that the folks up in Birmingham tried to get the AH-SAA to move all six state football finals to Legion Field. It is bad enough that the 6A teams have to play on artificial turf in front of 50,000 empty seats every year, but to make all the teams suffer would have been ludicrous. I wouldn't mind the championship games being moved to neutral dicrous. I wouldn't mind the championship games being moved to neutral sanctioned ASA tournament with three divisions - Men's Class C, Men's errors to score two runs in the bot-be crazy.

Another idea for the AHSAA officials....how about taking a look at the football playoffs and moving the playoff games to Friday and Saturday nights? The 1A-2A-3A playoff games could be held on Fridays, with the Men's Class D, with an entry fee of $100 and each team will hit its own games and let the fans see twice as many games, which would result in even greater revenue for everyone involved. It's worth a thought!
